The Ethics of the Love Game

Nobody Should Sit in It Who Is Not Good Sport—Banish Breach of Promise Suits. By Dorothy Dix.

OMANTIC people-what the oldfashioned novels called men and women of sentiment-cannot but be shocked and herrified at the number of breach of promise suits that occups the attention of the couris.

In all of these cases the agurieved party has not hesitated to repeat every fender thing that was said, to reveal the most sacred confidences, to make public the messages that were intended to go just from heart to heart, and that should have been as inviolate as anything told in the confessional, and to hold up the party of the other part—the once beloved and adered he or she—for the jeers and fleers of a ribaid world.

A Hideons Exhibition.

In every case it has been a hideous exhibition of lack of taste, of lack of delicacy, of lack of every fine feeling—of desceration of the holy of holles of the human soul.

The breach of promise case should be thrown out of court, and the one who brings it should have the taboo placed upon him or her. Love is outside of the furisdiction of the law, for, one thing, and for another it is impossible to tell whether any one is really damaged in sentiment and injured in emotions.

That there are bound to be risks in occupy the attention of the courts.

If you take advantage of this offer, you will come more nearly to getting something for nothing than you ever did before, or probably ever will again. Do not delay, as the close is only a few days away. Clip the coupon and profit by the six-in-one proposition. Ask your friend that got one of the books about it. Then profit by your tardiness and get one for a coupon. All explained under the dictionary coupon printed elsewhere in this issue, it is wholly modern and uptodate.

sible source of both potash and alumina and interest therefore attaches to several of the recent discoveries of this mineral by geologists of the geological survey.

A recent investigation of the Nogales

A recent investigation of the Nogales region, in southern Arizona, by F. C. Schrader, of the survey, revealed a depost of alumite. Analysis of rock samples collected from the Evening Star copper prospect by Mr. Schrader showed large percentages of alumina and potash, and while the discovery of the alumite was only incidental to the investigation of the copper deposits, it has served to suggest that other alumite deposits may be found in this formation, which occupies an area of many square miles. Mr. Schrader states that the property belt in which the alumite was found "would commend itself for prospecting in case a practical process is developed for the reducton of alumite to soluble potash saits, and in the light of the fact that a study of the alumite deposits hear Marysvals, Utah, and in other parts of the western states by the United States geological survey imilicates that the mineral alumite may become at some future time an mportant source of alumina." ime an mportant source of alumina.

THIN MUD FILLS EMMA MINE SHAFT

Silver City, N. M., Sept. 3.-News has been received here that while driving been received here that while driving a drift in the Emma mine in the direction of the Hanover mountain, a great mass of thin mud was encountered which flowed through the tunnel and rose over 100 feet in the shaft. It was too thick to handle with pumps and had to be bailed out. It is said to be the first time such a thing has happened in the history of mining at Pierro. Some time ago a vast quantity of water was struck on the 400 foot level and large pumps had to be ordered to empty the mine. Ore in the mine continues to carry big values.
